Thanks for Your Help!

In the last issue of The Piping Plover we put in a wish list for items we could use with our education programs. The items were things that might otherwise be thrown away such as old magazines (with good nature pictures), toilet paper and paper towel tubes, and egg cartons to name a few. The response was wonderful, and since we are gearing up for another school year, I'm sure we'll find a use for all of the items. We would like to thank the people who went out of their way to bring in the requested items. Your donations are greatly appreciated, and will be used in our education programs here on the Eastern Shore of Virginia Refuge. Thanks again for your help!
